PORTRAIT

Names and dates for much of the Addenda were furnished by Miss Elizabeth Carpenter of Pennington Gap, Virginia, and to her we owe our thanks.

Through her efforts, information about many an unmarked grave is included in this work.

Also, unmarked graves were identified by Mrs. Bonnie S. Ball of Mayski, Virginia, and to her, our thanks, too.

Included in the Addenda are corrections, and inscriptions which required a second search to find, or which were omitted for any reason.

Apart from the Addenda are obituaries from our weekly newspaper, The Powell Valley News. Through these, we could make note of burials in cemeteries we had already visited, most helpful, since our research has been of many years' duration.

PREFACE

In preparing this book of tombstone inscriptions of Lee County, Virginia, we have had a task of several years' time. It has entailed much climbing of hills and ridges, and groping our way through tangled vines, thorny bushes, and other heavy undergrowth. We have had more than one snake bite, many falls with the peevish chiggers, and attacks of poison ivy.

We have been as thorough as possible, in searching for inscriptions, using U. S. A. topographic maps, as well as questioning many, many persons. And in regard to their help, we wish to express here our thanks to those who directed us, and who often walked with us, to family burial grounds.

Being familiar with Lee County names, we could have made corrections, in some instances. However, we list them as they are to be found on the stones. This sometimes puts a particular family in different parts of the index. An example is Bledsoe and Bladens. So, check all possible spellings for names in which you are interested.

In spite of any difficulties, we have enjoyed our project, and we truly hope that you will benefit from it.
